The team pattern competitions will be held among the Dan holders only.

The team pattern competition, unlike the individual competitions, is the team performance where 5 competitors of a team enter the ring and demonstrate their teamwork. Hence, the technical movements should be performed collectively in accordance with the general choreographic composition requirements.

However, the technical aspects including fast and slow motions, continuous and connected motions should be executed as laid down in the Encyclopaedia. Scoring will not commence until the command "Shi Jak" is given by the Centre Referee. Maximum of twenty (20) seconds will be allowed for the team to arrive at their starting positions.

Teams will perform one optional pattern and one designated pattern. The designated pattern will be the same pattern for the 2 competing teams and selected at random by the electronic system (excluding those optional patterns previously performed in the round).

Optional patterns and designated patterns in team competitions for Junior, Youth, Adult and Veteran Categories are shown below.

In Optional Patterns for the team competitions, the Patterns should correspond to the lowest Degree degree holder among the team members.

Patterns

- Optional: From KWANG-GAE to the lowest Degree holder on the team
- Designated: CHON-JI to GE-BAEK

- ❖ Teams will perform alternatively.
- ❖ Each team will perform the same designated pattern.
- ❖ Deciding the winner is the same as in individual pattern.
